There's More News Here Than in Wall Street

THE real business news of today is being made in America's industries.

In the past, business pages have been confined principally to financial news.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger, in its daily BUSINESS SECTION is the first newspaper to open up the great field of commercial and industrial news and to create a nation-wide organization of expert business reporters to gather it for publication.

It gives the business man information that he cannot obtain elsewhere—

It advises him of market conditions in all the important trades, of prevailing prices for all raw materials, of legislation affecting business relations, of transportation conditions, of new industrial processes, of mergers and incorporations, of new export opportunities—

It gives him this news while it is fresh—in time for him to act upon the hints it contains.

The Public Ledger Business Section is read by subscribers in every State in the Union.
